DETAILED ACTION

Priority

Receipt is acknowledged of papers submitted under 35 U.S.C. 119(a)-(d), which papers have been placed of record in the file.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

Claims 1-7 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

In line 7 of claim 1, "in the expander" should be added after the first comma. As currently written, it appears that the well stream is expanded prior to entering the expander. Claims 2-7 depend from claim 1, so they are unclear due to this dependency.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

This application currently names joint inventors. In considering patentability of the claims under 35 U.S.C. 103(a), the examiner presumes that the subject matter of the various claims was commonly owned at the time any inventions covered therein were made absent any evidence to the contrary. Applicant is advised of the obligation under 37 CFR 1.56 to point out the inventor and invention dates of each claim that was not commonly owned at the time a later invention was made in order for the examiner to consider the applicability of 35 U.S.C. 103(c) and potential 35 U.S.C. 102(e), (f) or (g) prior art under 35 U.S.C. 103(a).

Claim 8 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Silvestri et al (5,140,818) in view of either Paurola (6,094,937) or Woodall et al (6,085,528-with both secondary references already of record).

Silvestri et al '818 disclose applicant's basic inventive concept, an expander (16 or 32) to expand a stream near isentropically with draining outlets (22,22a, 36,38,40 or 42) to remove condensate, a heat exchanger (20) for the condensed output of the expander and a mixing vessel (58 or 62) for mixing condensate from different sources. Silvestri et al do not show the storing of condensate in a tank. Paurola (tank 13) and Woodall et al (tank 9) show this feature to be old in the condensate collection art. It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time of applicant's invention from the teaching of either Paurola or Woodall et al to modify the expander condensate collector with multiple drains by adding a tank to store the collected condensate until it is needed. It is noted that Silvestri et al is not a system for condensing a well stream, but does disclose an apparatus that is capable of condensing a well stream (the condensing of a well stream is seen as functional language).

Allowable Subject Matter

Claims 1-7 would be allowable if rewritten or amended to overcome the rejection(s) under 35 U.S.C. 112, 2nd paragraph, set forth in this Office action.

Claims 9 and 10 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

Response to Arguments

Applicant's arguments with respect to claim 8 have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection. Silvestri et al is seen to teach an expander with multiple drains for condensate with means to mix the condensate from the drains with the condensate from the exit of the expander. The use of the device to condense a well stream is seen as functional language, which the apparatus of Silvestri et al is capable of performing (with the exception of a storage tank as taught by Paurola and Woodall et al).

Conclusion

The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. Silvestri '408 shows a turbine with multiple drains for removing condensate.
